Statement of Intent

- “Seichi Junrei” is a Japanese term for visiting places that were used as scenes in animes. The Seichi Junrei app is designed for users to keep track of their activities when visiting locations related to their favorite works -- not just animes, but any works that may use real-world locations for scenes or inspirations. Be it movies, tv shows, or even music videos from your favorite artist.
- With this app, the user can just go to the places, do their things, maybe take some pictures, and log them in the app. And later when the user wants view their activities, they will be shown in a beautifully organized way, with sorting and filters by categories, genres, titles, locations and times.
